Investing with Purpose

ACF launched FundATX in 2017 as an impact investing program dedicated to improving economic mobility for Central Texans. We do this by providing low-cost loans for nonprofits and community development financial institutions. Once repaid, these loans generate financial returns that allow philanthropic capital to be recycled back into the community—fueling even more impact.

ACF remains committed to evolving this program to better reflect our community’s needs while continuing to provide cost-effective loan capital where it’s needed most. Our fundholders have the benefit of being able to easily allocate a portion of their assets to FundATX, but anyone is welcome to make a philanthropic gift to support this effort.

Brewing Business: PeopleFund and Flora Coffee

For nearly a decade, ACF’s partnership with PeopleFund has demonstrated how strategic investment can open doors for entrepreneurs who fuel our region’s economic vitality. PeopleFund’s Small Business Accelerator equips entrepreneurs with the tools to transform ideas into sustainable enterprises. To date, 415 entrepreneurs have graduated, creating or retaining over 1,500 jobs, with 78% of businesses still operating three years later.

One of those entrepreneurs is Josh Whitehead, founder of Flora Coffee. After being turned away by traditional lenders, Josh received capital, training, and ongoing support through PeopleFund. When faced with an unexpected week-long closure, the skills and financial resources he gained helped his business survive and thrive. “What truly sets PeopleFund apart is their commitment beyond the loan,” said Josh. “They offer resources, mentorship, and guidance long after... it’s clear they’re investing in people and communities.”
